The ABCs of Doing Business in India
Tuesday, April 8, 2008 12:00 - 1:15
(with optional presentation from 1:15 -2:40)

India has emerged as one of the world's fast growing economies and continues to dominate foreign investment as world businesses fight to remain cost competitive and lower expenses. Columbus' newest sister city, Ahmedabad in the state of Gujarat, is a microcosm of this revolution.

The city has seen explosive population growth (10.2% in 2007) and is home to a young, highly-educated, diverse populace. The city boasts one of the finest business school's in the world - The India Institute of Management - which has developed exchange programs with MIT, Harvard and soon with The Ohio State University.

Join us next Tuesday for an introduction to our newest sister city, and a discussion about the business opportunities and pitfalls in doing business in India.

Attendees have the option to stay past our usual ending time for a 1 ½ hour presentation offering even more in-depth information.
